INTRODUCTION

This report characterizes the success, as measured by grade point average, and persistence, as measured by enrollment the following year, of the 1,712 Tarrant County College District (TCCD) students who transferred to a four-year college or university in the Fall of 2008. These 1,712 TCCD students met the criterion for being a first-time transfer student in Fall 2008 at a Texas public four-year college or university. Transfers are categorized as having had developmental education or no developmental education prior to transfer. Transfers are also categorized as having achieved the following: completion of the core curriculum or field of study; an associate's degree (academic or technical); a certificate of completion; or no award. The report is specific as to the transfers for each college and university. Two local universities, University of Texas at Arlington (UTA) and University of North Texas (UNT), consistently receive large numbers of transfers from TCCD; this report includes specific information on transfers to those two schools. Also, this report shows a comparison of the success and persistence of TCCD transfers to those from the Big 10 or Very Large Community Colleges in Texas.

BACKGROUND

New legislation required that four-year colleges and universities report to community colleges the transfer success of students from the community colleges. In order to reduce the load of reporting, the researchers across the state worked collectively with the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board (THECB) staff members to obtain a report that would satisfy the legislation and give consistent results. This has been accomplished, and, using the results, this report provides the information for each campus and TCCD as a whole.

The THECB report categorizes Fall 2008 transfers in four different ways:

- Comparison of Developmental Education vs. No Developmental Education
- Core Curriculum and Field of Study Transfers
Note: cell values for these measures are too small for analysis
- Academic and Technical Associate Degree Transfers
- Certificate and No Award

The complete reports from THECB for each campus using the four categories are shown in Appendix B. The portions related to developmental vs. no developmental are one focus of this report. The results for TCCD are compared to the Big 10 or Very Large Community Colleges. The results for the individual four-year colleges and universities to which TCCD provides transfers are shown.

The definition of a transfer student for this report is the following:

Students who were coded as first time transfer in Fall 2008 on CMB001 with a valid Texas FICE code and SSN and tracked back six (6) years in CTC to see if they earned at least 30 hours.

Please read carefully the definitions that the THECB noted on the charts produced. To be considered a transfer student, the student would have completed at least 30 semester hours at TCCD during the six years prior to transfer to a four-year college or university for the first time in Fall 2008. The cohort studied contained the 1,712 transfer students from TCCD in Fall 2008 who met the definitions.

ACADEMIC PERFORMANCE OF TCCD TRANSFER STUDENTS

Academic Performance – GPA Range of Transfers for Developmental vs. No Developmental

Table 1 (see Appendix A) is a compilation of the total transfers from each campus of TCCD with the grade point average (GPA) made by those transfers (Fall 2008) at the senior institution during their first year at the institution; also shown are the numbers who persisted after the first year (Fall 2009). In Table 1, the success, as measured by GPA, is shown for students in two categories: 1) students who were in developmental education prior to transfer and 2) students who had no developmental education prior to transfer. Percentages by GPA range for each campus and TCCD are shown.

For TCCD as a whole, 61.9% of the transfers in Fall 2008 had been in developmental education prior to transfer and 38.1% had no developmental education prior to transfer. SE campus had the greatest percentage (65.9%) with developmental education, followed by NW (63.7%), NE (59.0%), and SO (57.4%). Number wise, SE (604) had the greatest volume of transfers, followed by NE (537), SO (312), and NW (259).

With regard to GPA, 60.2% of students with developmental education and 66.8% of students with no developmental education made a GPA of 2.5 or better. For those with developmental education, all campuses had greater than 55% making a 2.5 GPA or better; NE was highest at 64.7%. For those with no developmental education, all campuses had greater than 62% making a 2.5 GPA or better; NE was highest with 72.7%.

With regard to persistence into Fall 2009, 71.2% of students with developmental education and 71.7% of students with no developmental education enrolled in the university after their first year as transfers. For those with developmental education, NW (77.6%) had the greatest persistence; the other three campuses had greater than 65%. For those with no developmental education, NW (73.4%) had the greatest persistence, with SE (72.3%) close behind.

In summary, students with no developmental education were more successful than students with developmental education in achieving a 2.5 or better GPA. Students with developmental education persisted into the second year as a transfer at the four-year college or university at basically the same rate as those with no developmental education.

The individual campus reports provided by THECB are in Appendix B.

Academic Performance – Transfers to Texas Public Universities for Developmental vs. No Developmental

Table 2 (see Appendix A) shows the different Texas public universities to which TCCD students transferred in Fall 2008. The two universities receiving the most graduates from TCCD were University of Texas at Arlington (UTA) with 895 transfers and University of North Texas (UNT) with 406 transfers.

Transfers with developmental making a GPA of 2.5 or better were as follows:

TCCD ----- 60.2%

Transfers with no developmental making a GPA of 2.5 or better were as follows:

TCCD ----- 66.8%

In summary, TCCD transfer students with no developmental succeeded at a greater rate than transfer students with developmental education.

UTA received the greatest number of transfers (895) from TCCD of any of the Texas Public Universities; Table 3 (see Appendix A) shows the sum of the transfers from the four campuses.

Transfers to UTA with developmental making a GPA of 2.5 or better were as follows:

TCCD ----- 61.1%

Other 2-yr colleges----- 51.3%

Transfers to UTA with no developmental making a GPA of 2.5 or better were as follows:

TCCD ----- 65.1%

Other 2-yr colleges----- 67.9%

In summary, TCCD transfer students to UTA with developmental succeeded at a greater rate than transfer students with developmental from other 2-year colleges; TCCD transfers to UTA with no developmental succeeded at a rate slightly less than transfer students with no developmental from other 2-year colleges.

UNT received the second greatest number of transfers from TCCD; Table 4 (see Appendix A) shows the sum of the transfers from the four campuses.

Transfers to UNT with developmental making a GPA of 2.5 or better were as follows:

TCCD ----- 61.9%
 Other 2-yr colleges----- 58.1%

Transfers to UNT with no developmental making a GPA of 2.5 or better were as follows:

TCCD ----- 71.4%
 Other 2-yr colleges----- 64.2%

In summary, TCCD transfer students to UNT with developmental succeeded at a slightly greater rate than transfer students with developmental from other 2-year colleges; TCCD transfers to UNT with no developmental succeeded at a rate greater than transfer students with no developmental from other 2-year colleges.

With regard to persistence, the following was noted for transfers from TCCD to UTA and UNT:

	TCCD	Other 2-yr community colleges
UTA – Persistence
developmental education	72.5%	68.8%
no developmental education	72.3%	70.0%
UNT – Persistence
developmental education	69.4%	65.3%
no developmental education	70.1%	69.6%

Persistence of TCCD transfers at UTA and UNT exceeded the persistence of transfers from other 2-year colleges for both groups, developmental and no developmental education.

Academic Performance – Earned Associate’s Degree Prior to Transfer

Of the 1,712 transfer students in Fall 2008 considered in this report, 405 (23.7%) earned an academic associate’s degree (AA) prior to transferring and 43 (2.5%) earned a technical associate’s degree (AAS). Table 5 in Appendix A provides information on the success (GPA) of these transfers.

For the academic associate’s degree transfer students (405), 74.8% had a GPA of 2.5 or better and more than 77% persisted to the next year, Fall 2009. For the technical associate’s degree transfer (43) the cell values are small; however, for the group as a whole 79.1% made a GPA of 2.5 or better and 60.5% persisted to Fall 2009.

Academic Performance – Earned Certificate or No Award Prior to Transfer

Of the 1,712 transfer students in Fall 2008 considered in this report, only 12 students earned a certificate prior to transfer; however, 1,252 students transferred with no award. Table 6 in Appendix A provides data on these two groups.

For certificate transfers the cell values are very small. For those transferring with no award, nearly 60% earned a GPA of 2.5 or better and 70% persisted into Fall 2009.

ACADEMIC PERFORMANCE OF TCCD TRANSFER STUDENTS COMPARED TO THE BIG 10

Academic Performance – GPA Range for Developmental vs. No Developmental – TCCD and the Big 10

The Big 10 community colleges of Texas had a total of 15,374 transfer students to Texas public universities in Fall 2008. TCCD had 11.1% (1712/15374) of the transfers. Table 7 (see Appendix A) provides data for the categories of developmental vs. no developmental for each of the Big 10.

Transfers with developmental making a GPA of 2.5 or better were as follows:

TCCD ----- 60.2%
Big 10 ----- 59.8%

Transfers with no developmental making a GPA of 2.5 or better were as follows:

TCCD ----- 66.8%
Big 10 ----- 67.6%

TCCD had slightly greater success than the Big 10 transfers for those students with developmental while the Big 10 transfers had slightly greater success than TCCD transfers for those students with no developmental.

Persistence – Developmental vs. No Developmental – TCCD and the Big 10

Persistence	TCCD	Big 10
developmental	71.2%	74.5%
no developmental	71.7%	74.7%

Overall the Big 10 transfers persisted to the following year at a greater percentage than TCCD transfers for both developmental and no developmental.

Academic Performance – Earned Associate’s Degree Prior to Transfer – TCCD and the Big 10

The academic performance was reported for transfers who earned either an academic associate’s degree or a technical associate’s degree. Table 8 in Appendix A displays the results for TCCD and Big 10 transfers who earned a degree prior to transfer.

The Big 10 community colleges of Texas had a total of 15,374 transfer students to Texas public universities in Fall 2008; 24.0% earned an academic associate’s degree and 2.8% earned a technical associate’s degree prior to transfer; these percentages for academic and technical are very similar to percentages for TCCD (23.7% academic and

2.5% technical). The cell values are small for transfers earning a technical associate's degree.

Transfer with academic associate's degree making a GPA of 2.5 or better were as follows:

TCCD ----- 74.8%
Big 10 ----- 71.5%

Transfer with technical associate's degree making a GPA of 2.5 or better were as follows:

TCCD ----- 79.1%
Big 10 ----- 71.5%

Academic and technical associate's degree transfers from TCCD had greater success than the Big 10 transfers.

Persistence rates for TCCD academic (77.5%) and technical (60.5%) associate's degree transfers were slightly higher than the Big 10 (76.3% - academic; 56.4% - technical) transfers.

Academic Performance – Earned Certificate or No Award Prior to Transfer – TCCD and the Big 10

Of the 15,374 transfers for Fall 2008, only 1.1% earned a certificate before transferring. However, 72.0% transferred prior to earning an award, degree or certificate; for TCCD 73.1% transferred without earning an award. Data for these categories are presented in Table 9 in Appendix A. Cell values for those earning a certificate are too small for many comparisons.

For transfers with no award prior to transfer and making a GPA of 2.5 or better, the following comparison can be made:

TCCD ----- 58.1%
Big 10 ----- 59.9%

For transfers with no award prior to transfer and persisting into the following year (Fall 2009), the following comparison can be made:

TCCD ----- 70.0%
Big 10 ----- 75.0%

In summary, TCCD transfers with no award prior to transfer made slightly lower GPAs and persisted into the following year (Fall 2009) at a slightly lower percentage than those from the Big 10.
